'DUTY' IS CONVENTION KEYNOTE AS SOUNDED BY REV. MYERS IN OPENING ADDRESS TO VISITORS

Dwight W. Stephenson, President of Glendale Board of Trustees, Gives Official Welcome, Saying City Is Clean and Will Be Kept So

By R. D. KNICKERBOCKER

Duty! That is the keynote of the thirty-fourth annual Christian Endeavor convention, which is now in session in this city, as laid down in the opening address Saturday night by the Rev. Cortland Myers, pastor of the Tremont Temple Baptist church of Boston.

Duty! Not that kind of duty that may be put on and cast aside like a convenient cloak to cover the changing whims of convenience; not the duty of weaklings that can be brought forward when desired; but a stern, virile duty of everyday life; that sort of duty brought to this country by our Pilgrim forefathers; that sort of duty that has placed America ever in the foreground of every battle for the cause of righteousness; a duty that is particularly needed in the present crisis of moral and religious breakdown.

And looking into the earnest, enthusiastic faces of the hundreds of representatives of Christianity, who have chosen Glendale for their place of meeting, it may be said that no more able band could be found for the observance of this doctrine.

While a great many of the delegates did not arrive in time for the opening session, the meeting more than made up in enthusiasm for what it might possibly have lacked in numbers. The convention opened with the choir of 150 and the entire congregation singing the convention theme, "Looking Unto Jesus," led by Otis Ironmonger. And let it be said right now that Brother Ironmonger is some song leader. If he was not a yell leader while at college he certainly missed his vocation. Of a virile personality, his influence soon spread through the audience until the rafters of the auditorium rang with paeans of praise.

The opening prayer was made by the Rev. E. E. Ford, of the First Baptist church of Glendale, who asked a blessing upon this great host of young folks who had gathered here to participate in this great event, and prayed that a great advance in religious thought might result from this convention. Following the invocation, President B. Irvin Valentine formally declared the convention open.

Double Welcome Given

Dwight W. Stephenson, president of the Board of City Trustees, officially welcomed the delegates in behalf of Glendale, while the Rev. Clyde Monroe Crist, pastor of the M. E. church, represented the churches in the same capacity.

"It is indeed a pleasure and a privilege to welcome this splendid group of people to our city. Never in the history of Glendale have we had gathered in our midst such a representative group of citizens with such high ideas. While it may not appear to you, just at this present moment, that all is harmonious in our midst, let me assure you that there is one thing upon which Glendale can unite, and that is in our great pleasure in having you with us on this occasion," declared Mr. Stephenson.

"We are proud of Glendale because it is a clean city, and we are going to keep it clean at all costs," was the closing statement of Mr. Stephenson, amid the enthusiastic applause of the delegates.

"The latch-strings of our hearts are out, and in the name of the churches I welcome you to Glendale," was the core of Dr. Crist's speech of welcome.

Response by Harry Allan

The response on behalf of the visiting delegates was made by Harry C. Allan, of San Francisco, and associate field secretary of the Christian Endeavor, that they were very happy to be here, their eyes having been cast upon Glendale for the past year.

"I noted with pleasure the statement of your president that Glendale is a clean city, and I desire to say that I am especially thankful for the fact that our young people have been brought to a Christian city where the citizens have reached the highest attainments of Christianity," stated Secretary Allan.

The matter of the appointment of committees was next taken up and shortly disposed of, the same being filled as follows:

Committees Are Named

Nominating committee: Ben. J. Small, chairman; Garner R. Searl, Miss Elsa Koch, John Henderson, Jr., Lawrence Downen, Miss Edna Calhoun, Mrs. E. B. Walberg.

Resolutions committee: Harry H. Godber, chairman; Glen D. Wight, Arnold Anderson.

Business committee: Arthur J. Gatter, chairman; Dr. Harry E.

Convention Sidelights

Before the opening meeting last night there was considerable friendly competition on the part of the various districts in the matter of district yells and class songs. Although greatly outnumbered, the delegation of five live wires from Vallejo, representing the Napa Valley, easily walked off with first honors. Some peppy bunch, these boys from Vallejo.

Arthur J. Gatter, chairman of the business committee, has a dry sense of humor. At the Senior Rally at the auditorium yesterday, he pulled this one without a smile:

"The offering last night was not as large as we hoped. However, as we did not expect it to be as large as we hoped, we were not as disappointed as we might have been."

In the pre-registration contest, held for the first time this year, San Luis Opispo carried away first honors, with Marin second and San Francisco third.

"Jimmy" Garth and Keith Brooks, accompanists, certainly tickled the ivories Saturday and Sunday. And Otis Ironmonger, convention song leader, Oh Boy, that lad could get melody out of a cigar store wooden Indian.

Also don't forget that much of the musical enjoyment has been made possible through the courtesy of the Glendale Music company, who loaned the big Baldwin concert grand for the occasion.

IF DR. CORTLAND MYERS IS A FAIR SAMPLE OF THE ABILITY OF THE SPEAKERS TO FOLLOW, GLENDALE CAN CERTAINLY CONGRATULATE ITSELF UPON THE OPPORTUNITY OF LISTENING TO SOME REAL ORATORS.

The boy pages who have been carrying luggage look in the same spirit as a Pullman porter nine nights out of New York. There are 125 indefatigable, loyal workers who are doing whatever they are called for.

Otis Ironmonger, the popular song leader of the convention, declares that he lost his dignity this morning. He lost more than his dignity, to-wit., one cuff link and his wind. Otis put on a scheduled 4-round bout this morning in the big tent, opposite the auditorium, with a young husky C. E. We are not saying who won the bout, but Otis is a song leader and you all know the old story about every man to his trade.

The first casualty of the convention occurred last night when Miss Dorothy Hall, of Long Beach, found a little ticket on her car for violating the traffic ordinance.

The Christian Endeavor convention is sure popular. At last night's big overflow meeting, request was made for the use of the press seats by a visiting delegate. In past experience this occurrence has been confined to ball games, prize-fights, etc.

Heard in the 'Frisco section: "Come home in our car after the meeting R——, you can put your head on my shoulder." OH, lady, lady.

The executive committee of the C. E. convention has secured the services of Dr. Edward Swift of the Glendale Theatre building as the convention physician.

ENJOYMENT MARKS SESSIONS TODAY AT CONVENTION

All Appear Happy During Morning, Picnic In Afternoon; Address Tonight

This morning's session of the C. E. convention proved to be a genuine get-together meeting, with a lot of hearty, old-time fun and enjoyment. Everyone appeared to be happy at the unprecedented success of the convention, which promises to break all previous records. The meeting was more in the nature of a business and social gathering, while the big event of the day is scheduled for this evening, when Dr. A. L. Shelton will talk upon his many experiences as a missionary in Thibet.

Dr. Shelton has had an exciting and interesting life at his various posts in the wilds of China and India: at one time being held a prisoner by wild tribes for 71 days until an army was sent by three of the leading powers to effect his rescue. Glendale people who attend this evening's meeting are assured of listening to an interesting talk by an able speaker.

This afternoon the Junior and Intermediate picnics are being held at Verdugo Park, which will be followed this evening by the Alumnae Banquet at the First Methodist church.

Conference Is Held

Prior to the opening of this morning's session, an interdenominational conference was held in the auditorium under the leadership of Rev. L. A. (Daddy) McAfee of Berkeley. Dr. McAfee is one of the standbys of C. E. conventions, having been pastor-counselor for many years. Dr. McAfee makes it a point to be always present at the Christian Endeavor conventions at all cosas and thoroughly enjoys the confidence of the young folks.

Dr. McAfee's talk was particularly directed toward the necessity of the churches placing the idea of Christianity above any particular creed or sect.

"I listened the other day to a lady discussing an absent friend.

"'He is a Presbyterian.—I hope he is a Christian,' declared the good lady.

"Above All, a Christian

"Now I am a Presbytefian, but above all things I am a Christian," stated Dr. McAfee.

An interesting analysis of the variance of the different sects in their methods and beliefs of worship was made by Dr. McAfee.

Sectarianism at one time ran riot in the Evangelical denominations, but a quiet and friendly perusal of the different creeds soon resulted in

1500 PLEDGES FOR PLUNGE BONDS ON FILE

Patterson Park Proposition Seems Sure To Carry In Tomorrow's Election

From reports received by Secretary James M. Rhoades of the Chamber of Commerce, there are approximately 1500 voters pledged to support and vote for the Patterson park swimming pool bonds in the sum of $22,000 at tomorrow's municipal election.

This encouragement leads to the belief that finally the young people of Glendale will have a plunge of their own, rather than having to patronize Brookside in Pasadena or Bimini baths in Los Angeles.

Mass meetings have been held and all precinct workers named for work for this issue and Judge F. H. Lowe is leading the tireless forces who want to see "Glendale, a clean city, kept clean" by a place where the populace may bathe as often as it desires.

A. V. Cockrin Reports Lumber Being Stolen

A. V. Cockrin, building contractor of 112-A East Broadway, reports the stealing of about forty pieces of lumber from a house which is being built at Pacific and Lexington. The act was probably done some time Saturday night or Sunday, as Mr. Cockrin was able to follow the tracks of the thieves' automobile for several blocks this morning when he arrived on the scene.

Mrs. L. J. Barlow Has Friends At Dinner

Mrs. J. L. Barlow of 431 South Columbus avenue entertained as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Allen and two daughters of Indianapolis, Indiana, and Mrs. E. Mr. and Mrs. Andresen Of New York Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Andresen of New York City are the house guests of Mrs. Ellen Kapus of 1241 South Central avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Andresen are former neighbors of Mrs. Kapus in the metropolis. They will probably remain in southern California until September.

GLENDALE VOTES ON OFFICIALS, BONDS TOMORROW

Battle Of Ballots Will Close Campaign Featured By 'Big League' Activities

Tomorrow Glendale votes!

After a fortnight of political paroxysms in which charges of puritanism, nepotism, truthlessness, etc., have been hurled by hired campaign managers, the citizens of this city will get down to business and into the ballot boxes will go their decision as to who shall be.

Members of the city council,
Members of the board of education,
City clerk, and
City treasurer.

They also shall vote on two bond issues, as follows:

Here Are Bond Issues

1—"Shall the city of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $26,000 for the purpose of acquiring land and constructing and completing thereon municipal buildings for the purpose of storing materials, supplies, vehicles and equipment owned by the city of Glendale?"

The city is backing this proposition.

2—"Shall the city of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $22,000 for the purpose of acquiring land and improving the same for public park purposes, including the construction thereon of public swimming pool and appurtenances?"

The Chamber of Commerce urges this proposition.

The campaign has been spirited with the Better Council organization, Former Service Men's club, Federated Church Brotherhood, Good Government league, Municipal league and other tickets in the field.

According to onlookers, it is "big league" stuff for a city of this size. Rallies tonight to be held by different groups should bring the campaign to a close in a blaze of oratory and a haze as to what the real issues are.

Incumbents Seek Re-election

All members of the present council are seeking re-election and twice the number are seeking their offices. Following are the names of those seeking election:

Mrs. W. H. Ward of 110 North Belmont street, who for the past six weeks has been ill at the Glendale Research hospital and was among the first patients to be operated on at that place, is now sufficiently recovered to be taken to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Lapham of 415 West Broadway entertained at a family dinner party yesterday Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Baldridge and family of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldridge and family of Los Angeles and Charles Shaver and mother of Los Angeles.

Recent newcomers in Glendale are Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoyt, father and mother of Charles F. Hoyt of 805 North Central avenue. Mr. Hoyt is sixty years of age, a French-Canadian farmer who has lived most of his life in and near Quebec, he and his wife will remain in this city throughout the summer and may make it their permanent home.

Flagman On Job At S. P. Brand Crossing

This morning a flagman went on duty at the Brand boulevard crossing of the Southern Pacific as a result of the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and city, according to a communication received by City Manager T. W. Watson from W. H. Whalen, general superintendent of the railroad at Los Angeles.

Until the automatic safety gates are installed, this safety first man will be on the job from 7 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night. The Brand boulevard crossing is the only dangerous grade crossing leading out of Glendale and has been unprotected.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Vesper Enjoying Trip North

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Vesper of 321 East Lomita avenue, who left Glendale recently on a trip to Alaska, have received word from them telling of their wonderful journey. They have met some fine people and describe the scenery en route as being very beautiful, especially the snow-capped mountains which can be seen along the entire trip.

SEWERAGE SYSTEM PETITIONS NOW CIRCULATED

Secretary Rhoades Of C. Of C. Lining Up Property Owners On Vital Proposition

James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, this morning put into circulation a petition asking for the formation of a sewer district in the Brand boulevard business section, which will include those blocks west of Maryland, east of Orange, south of Wilson and north of Colorado.

Four septic tank units would be constructed under the plan and the sewers laid so that they could be connected with a city-wide system when it is installed. Already one unit has been signed for by all of the property owners, according to Mr. Rhoades.

Dorothea Wheeler Weds Belmont Kittle

The home of Grace Grisby of Santa Ana was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday evening when Miss Dorothea Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wheeler of 506 East Maple avenue, was united in marriage to Belmont David Kittle of Hollywood. The young couple were attended by Blossom Bussing and Marvin Creager of Glendale, who acted as bridesmaid and best man.

After the ceremony the wedding party motored to the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Robert Gleason, 314 East California avenue, where a dainty luncheon was served. The dining room was decorated in pink and white. Those present were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, the groom's father, Mr. Kittle, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wheeler, Mrs. R. Fox, Mrs. Valentine of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gleason and Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Kittle.

Following the reception and luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Kittle left by automobile for the different beaches, where they will spend their honeymoon. After this week they will be at home to their many friends at 707 East Orange Grove avenue.

Miss Fern M. Selby Bride Of W. E. Handy

The home of Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue provided the setting of a simple but pretty wedding ceremony Sunday morning, June 26, when Miss Fern Marie Faith Selby of Los Angeles was united in marriage to Waldo E. Handy of Los Angeles, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Norton.

Miss Selby was born in Moravia, Iowa, where Reverend Norton was formerly pastor, and when a child she was baptized by him. For a number of years she taught in the public schools of that city, coming to Los Angeles four years ago, since which time she has been engaged in business there.

Mr. Handy is a business man of Los Angeles. For the present time Mr. and Mrs. Handy will be at home to their many friends at 1030 North Alvorado street, Los Angeles, while a home is being constructed for them in Hollywood.

Miss Lulu Hiatt To Give Pleasing Program

An unusual treat for the young people of the Adventist church and the nurses of the Sanitarium will be the evening of music and readings with which Miss Lulu Hiatt will entertain them on Tuesday night in the nurses' class room at the sanitarium. Miss Hiatt has charmed all who have been lucky enough to hear her and Tuesday night is anticipated with much pleasure.

Miss Viola Yorba And Mother At Catalina

Miss Viola Yorba made her final appearance professionally for the summer when she danced at the Y. L. I. ball at the Ambassador hotel on June 18. With her mother, Mrs. C. A. Sowl, she is planning to spend the next week or two at Catalina Island. Mrs. A. Martinez and her two sons, Ernest and Lionel Martinez, plan to accompany them.

Ironmonger Sings At Seniors' Big Rally

Led by the indefatigable Otis Ironmonger, the Christian Endeavor Seniors opened their rally yesterday afternoon at the auditorium with devotional songs and exercises. Mr. Ironmonger also accommodated with a solo which brought a large round of applause. Those who have attended previous conventions declare that the music at Glendale far surpasses anything in this line in the history of C. E.

The address of the day was delivered by the Rev. Howard McConnell, of the First Christian church of San Jose; the subject being "Looking Unto Jesus in Life's Adventure."

Robert M. M'Gee Runs Independent

ROBERT M. M'GEE

Robert M. McGee, an independent candidate for member of the city council, is a native of Illinois and has been a resident of Glendale for the last twelve years. He has followed the occupations of farming, school teaching and merchandising, having been established in a dry goods and gents' furnishing store here for about ten years.

Mr. McGee is a member of the First Methodist church, but is not indorsed by the Federated Brotherhood or any other league. He also is a member of the Elks, Odd Fellows and Sons of Veterans.

"I am a firm believer in the great future and possibilities of our city and will do everything in my power to promote its growth and if elected, I will give the city business the same attention that I give my own," Mr. McGee states.

Two Luncheons Are Being Given Behalf Of Convention Aids

The ladies of the Congregational church are giving two luncheons in their church parlors in honor of special groups of the Christian Endeavor workers. Tuesday they will entertain the O. O. C.'s, which is an organization pledged to do special work among high school students. Wednesday they will serve the superintendents and leaders of the Junior C. E. On Wednesday morning the Life Recruits will gather there for breakfast. Mrs. H. Wayne Yarrick is superintending these affairs for the church.

Rose Tea Given By Mrs. William Cutler

A very pretty rose tea was given Thursday afternoon, June 23, by Mrs. William Cutler at her home, 1327 North Louise, in honor of her niece, Mrs. Philip Carr of El Monte, a recent bride.

The rose pink color predominated in the decorations which made the home most beautiful for the occasion. Another niece, little Miss Joan Elizabeth Putnam, not quite 3 years old, and looking like a rosebud herself, led the bride blindfolded, to a bower made of lattice work in pink, with blue plumbago and butterflies, back of which was banked with pink gladiolas. Here, seated at her feet, the little girlie took the gifts from their pink wrappings and gave them to the guest of honor.

After this most pleasant part of the afternoon the guests gathered around small tables where the delicious refreshments were served. Beside the charm of the other decorations, each place was made more beautiful by the bontonnieres which were the ladies' favors. They were so unique as to deserve particular description, being the organdy flowers in the pastel shades, formed like an old-fashioned nose-gay from grandmother's garden, with the lace doily to finish and each held upright by a spool hidden by pink crepe paper. Another interesting par of the afternoon was the ceremony of cutting the ice cream cake by the bride. Those present were Mrs. J. B. Neighbors, Mrs. W. M. Hulse, Mrs. C. S. Martin, Mrs. Roy Putnam and Mrs. John Smith of Los Angeles, Mrs. A. B. Carr and Mr. Marr's mother of El Monte, and Mrs. Wernette, Mrs. Hewitt and her mother, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Curtis Priest, Mrs. E. G. Barnes, Mrs. Everett Barnes, Miss Harriet Barnes, Mrs. Wyman, Miss Wyman and Miss Frances Wyman, Mrs. Dana, Miss Dana and Miss Ruth Dana of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilson Find Bakersfield Warm

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wilson, two sons Grenade and Alvin, and daughter Orinda of 371 West Broadway, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Emma Wood of 320 West Broadway, motored to Bakersfield last Tuesday, and also visited Mrs. Wilson's brother, H. O. Wood at Shafter. Owing to a temperature of 110 in the shade and little shade in and around Bakersfield, the party tarried but a few days and are glad to be back in Glendale.

C. E. KIMLIN

for City Council

Statement To Voters Made By W. B. Kirk

Editor of The Evening News:—It seems that some of the good people among whom I have lived for thirteen years, and with many of whom I have done business and had the most cordial relationships, since I became a candidate for councilman and have avowed my desire to keep out commercial pool-rooms and any other undesirable thing which would make an unclean spot on our wholesome, ideal residence city, have suddenly become obsessed with the idea that because I and others have been indorsed by the Federated Brotherhood, we are bigots, fanatics, and intolerant puritans, awaiting only the opportunity to use our power in foisting upon the city so-called "Blue" ordinances which will so abridge the liberty of the people as to force out of the city all except Sunday-observing Christians.

Has my life in this community for these years been such as to give to any one real ground for such fears? Honest to goodness now, does anybody who reads this and knows me, deep down in your heart believe this? If you have confidence in me vote for me tomorrow. W. B. KIRK.

STEPHENSON, CRIST WELCOME C. E. TO GLENDALE

City, Church Representatives Bid Delegates To Make Themselves At Home

Straub, Reese Martin, Harry C. Allan, Willard J. Robinson.

Place of meeting committee: Arthur W. Johnson, chairman; Charles E. Culver, W. P. Willimott.

Auditing committee: Carl A. Bundy, chairman; James Cooper, George Higby.

Various announcements of routine matters were made by Arthur J. Gatter, chairman of the business committee.

Dr. Myers Thrills

The real thrill of the meeting was occasioned in the address of the Rev. Cortland Myers of Boston, speaker of the evening. Dr. Myers is a keen, sparkling speaker, who stands in the foremost ranks of the orators of the day. And it might also be stated that he is quite human and some scrapper when it comes to standing up for his beliefs. At intervals in his address Dr. Myers had the audience convulsed with laughter by his brilliant witticisms upon the events of the day.

"In this day of crisis for the church, for humanity, for the world and for Christ, we need a strong word to guide our faltering footsteps. Not a weak word; not a word of privilege—there has been altogether too much talk about privileges these days—but a word of command. It is high time in this day of moral and religious breakdown that we speak of duty. Heroic duty. Constant, everyday duty. Duty that is not only brought out for the applause of the multitude, but duty that works equally well in the silent battles of our soul.

"High Time for Duty"

"The greatest heroism of the world is not on the battlefields of war, but more often in the moral battlefields of everyday life. I say, before God, it is high time we speak of duty, and I cannot think of a better sign for this convention than that one little word, 'duty.' Stand by your church and do your duty. Christ needs heroic men and women, who can be depended upon to do their Christian duty. Your security depends upon your absolute adherence to the straight and narrow path of duty, no matter what the cost," were the stirring words of this eminent divine.

An appropriate solo was rendered by Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts of Glendale, and a short closing address by the Rev. Lapsley A. (Daddy) McAfee, pastor of the Berkeley Presbyterian church, concluded the opening session.

Carleton West To Survey At Big Creek

Carlton T. West of 446 West Elk avenue, who recently completed his second year at the southern branch of the University of California, returned last week from several days' outing with friends at Catalina. Upon his return he immediately left for Big Creek, where he will work as a surveyor during the summer.

the conclusion that there was really very little difference in the fundamentals of the various denominations.

The subjects for tomorrow's discussion will be:

First: How do we get the different ideas of the major beliefs in the churches.

Second: The spirit with which to stand upon our individual loyalty.

Singing Opens Big Session

That good old stand-by "Claim the Victory Now," sung by the delegates and led by the indefatigable Otis Ironmonger, opened the meeting.

"Helping You to Help Yourself," a talk by Paul C. Brown, field secretary, was next on the program.

A storm of applause greeted the Alameda county delegation as they marched to the platform in a body 30 strong, singing a booster song in behalf of Oakland as the home of the 1922 convention. The Alameda county delegates were led by a "band" playing up "kazooks." As a musical treat the event left much to be desired, but as a side-splitting stunt in behalf of Alameda it brought down the house.

Under the direction of Paul Brown a staff of officers conducted a genuine auction. The books put on the block were "On the Highway," "Expert Endeavor" and a permanent record book. The only trouble was that the supply was inadequate for the demand.

Rev. O. P. Rider, pastor of the South Glendale Presbyterian church, led the meeting in prayer, and asked the blessing upon both the material, social, intellectual and spiritual side of those present.

The announcements were handled this morning by Harry C. Allan. Following the offerings the Quiet Hour was taken up by Mrs. Hancie Naylor.

The Tenth legion was handled by Miss Angelica Townsend, while Miss Lela Holland gave a ten-minute talk upon "Efficiency in the C. E." Willard Robinson, third vice president gave a short discussion on the advantages to be derived from the Christian Endeavor World, the official organ of the C. E.

President Valentine closed the session with standing prayer, and the delegates marched in a body to the high school to have the official picture taken.

D. R. SPERRYS MOVE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Sperry, who have become residents at 349 West Broadway are new arrivals in this city. They motored from Mountain View, their former home. Mr. Sperry has accepted the position of superintendent of the Harrower laboratory.

LOCAL ELKS BEATEN BY PASADENA; SCORE 2 TO 3

Real Exhibition Is Given To Local Fans; Geo. Hastings Injured Making Slide

The Glendale Elks' baseball "hopes" were defeated yesterday afternoon by the Pasadena antlered squad in ten innings of sensational baseball—final score, 3 to 2. About 400 enthusiastic fans attended the affair, which was probably the best exhibition of the national pastime that has ever been witnessed in Glendale.

The going was even until the first half of the sixth inning, when the Crown City lads broke the ice by scoring one run on a single and double by Cox and Cockrell, respectively. They followed this up in the seventh, when Left Fielder Haas brought Sinclair across the rubber on a nifty double to left.

Tho locals did their run-making in the sixth and eighth, R. Doll crossing the rubber for the first tally, and Acting Manager Hastings with the second.

The winning run of the game came in the tenth when "Bud" Sharpe, the big Pasadena first baseman, opened fire with a long three-bagger to left center. He scampered home a moment later on a double to the same territory by Cox.

After the game it was found that George Hastings, while sliding home with the second run in the seventh inning, had torn a ligament loose in his left foot. Upon examination it was declared to be a severe sprain.

ROOMS FOR SOME AND BATHS FOR OTHERS AT CONVENTION

E. C. Hale Races Around Town Like Cats and Dogs to Write "Dear Katie" All About Entertainment of State Christian Endeavorers Here

Glendale, June 27, 1921.

Dear Katie:—

Well, seeing as how you ain't heard from me since last Saturday, I suppose you're wonderin what's become of me and if I'm dead or what's the matter. But Katie for the last couple days I had to race around like cats and dogs to keep tab on the events of the day.

The city has put some extra traffic cops on the job for C. E. convention week and believe me Katie, they got it pretty soft, cause all they got to do is stay in one place all the time whereas I have to be everywhere to once.

Saturday mornin a special train got in a hour late on account of the engine havin a blow-out or somethin at Bakersfield. That wasn't so bad, but I guess the engineer was a stranger in this neck of the movie world, cause he didn't stop the train till he got to the lumber yards of Tropico.

Like Flies at Kitchen Door

Well, the home team includin me and Mr. Rhoades was there with 50 autos to bring em back to the auditorium and Katie it looked to me like everybody had brung two suit cases and a satchel and was figurin on spendin the summer in the Jewel City. And why not?

Well at the big tent across from the auditorium, the visitors got all lined up like flies at the kitchen door. Everybody had to write their names on a card and where they lived and why, and are they married or happy.

Then they was asked (outa pure politeness) if they would like to have a room with or without a bath which the same didn't make no difference what they would like, cause them that was lucky got the room and them that was unlucky got the bath.

Katie there was more as a hundred pages and guides ready to take the visitors to their seperate adobes which the citizens of Glendale had so generously reserved for em.

Nobody Deported as Yet

Besides that, two big trucks with 150 cot beds got in from Los Angeles, so I guess nobody had to be deported to Hollywood to lay awake all night.

All day Saturday, the big tent was filled with fair maidens. There was more pretty girls than there is peaches in Michigan. The ice cream stand with it's bevy of blushing beauties was as crowded as a country town on circus day.

Everybody was getting acquainted and hustlin around to go somewhere, but they didn't know where and it didn't make no difference, cause they was havin a good time anyway.

Where Is Yolo County

Autos was goin to and fro and back again and flyin around corners with two wheels in the air. One auto buss from Yolo county (wherever that is) which was loaded with 35 people and 47 suit cases come speedin into town on all fours and if the traffic cop hadn't got out of the way, they would of buried him the next day.

Well, I had noticed one guy which had been hangin around all day kinda suspicious like and I kept my sharp eyes on him for a while and I begun to decide as how I'd better yell for the cops and have him locked up in the calaboose, just outa suspicion.

Then after while he got to watchin Me. Katie; he got me so nervous I couldn't stand it no longer, so I went right up to him and I asks him, who is he.

He just smiles a little and then he give me his callin card.

Say Katie, this job is enough to make a strivin reporter turn to chasin butterflys. That's all—period.

Inquisitively Yours
E. C. HALE.

P. S. That suspicious lookin guy was nothin, but a plane clothes detective.

SPIRIT OF CONVENTION SEEN IN 'QUIET HOUR' PRAYERS

Miss Hancie Naylor Impresses the Importance of Devotional Services Upon Delegates at Meeting Held in Christian Church Saturday Afternoon

By MARGARET SHARPE

"Sweet hour of prayer, sweet hour of prayer,
"That takes me from a world of care."

The real spirit of the Christian Endeavor was in the quiet room at the Christian church Saturday afternoon when the young people who gathered there for their "Quiet Hour" lifted up their hearts in earnest prayer for the spiritual success of the convention.

The words of the opening song, the soft music, the mellow afternoon sunlight falling through the shaded glass of the windows on great bowls of yellow flowers, all added their touch of beauty to the hour set aside for special reflection on the intentions of the Christian Endeavor.

Miss Hancie Naylor, who led the session, spoke earnestly of the important part prayer should hold in the life of young Christians. She laid emphasis on the fact that the success of the convention would depend largely on the prayers of the individual members and explained the purpose of the "Prayer Room" at the rear of the auditorium where those who wish may go at any time to pray for the success of the meeting that is being held at that particular time.

Leaders have been appointed for every hour of the day to be present in the room and assist the groups that will come and go in concentrating their hearts on the special plea they wish to make.

The young people are urged not to forget the object of this room or to underestimate its worth as one of the most important factors in the success of the convention. Another thing that should be borne in mind is that the visitors should not neglect their individual "quiet hours" in the hurry and excitement of the meetings. As Miss Naylor put it:

"We will all attend the prayer sessions and derive much benefit from them, but nothing can take the place of our own quiet hour, when we are alone with our Heavenly Father."

If the young people co-operate with the plans made for them and add earnest prayer to the work of the convention they will continue to reap the benefit of their efforts long after their visit to Glendale is only a happy memory.

Palace Grand Orders Electrical Roof-Sign

A contract has been let by the Palace Grand theatre of Glendale for the erection of a spectacular roof-sign to be erected in the immediate future. William B. Wright, to whom the contract has been let, states that several of the local merchants are also contemplating the erection of electric signs, which will turn Brand boulevard into the "White Way" of Glendale, he says.

Casa Verdugo Church Dinner Large Success

The dinner Thursday night for the benefit of the Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church building fund was a great success both socially and financially. The tables were arranged in the social hall of the church which was gayly decorated for the occasion Over 220 guests were served and more than $110 cleared.

Mrs. C. H. Garton served as chairman of the committee in charge of the affair and its success can largely be credited to her efforts.

Mrs. L. E. Richardson Is Hostess To Society

The regular monthly meeting of the Missionary Society of the Tropico Presbyterian church took place Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. E. Richardson of 1856 South Brand boulevard, with Mrs. S. B. Van Etten in charge of the program. About twenty ladies attended the affair, which was one of the most interesting of the year.

The general topic of the day was "The Philippine Islands," the principal speaker of the occasion being Miss M. A. Williamson, who has spent fifteen years in missionary work in the islands. Her talk was extremely interesting, and was highly appreciated by the ladies of the society.

The devotional part of the program was in charge of Mrs. Frank Ashton.

Following Miss Williamson's speech the ladies were served a dainty course of refreshments by the hostess, after which they were favored with several beautifully-rendered duets by Miss Dorothy Thompson and Miss Helen Wilcox.

HEAD OF COMMITTEE IN CHARGE OF MEET IS ALWAYS SMILING

HOWARD L. BROWN

Practically every delegate to the state Christian Endeavor convention knows Howard L. Brown, resident of Glendale and manager of a large business in Los Angeles. He is a former president of the state organization, therefore he is being kept exceedingly busy shaking hands with friends pouring into the city from all over the state. And in view of the fact that he is chairman of the general committee in charge of the convention, it is plain that Mr. Brown has to be more than ordinarily active. But with it all he does not lose his smile and is always ready with a "Welcome to our city" when a band of delegates arrives.

Junior Rally Sees 'Conquerors' Lodge' Exemplify Degrees

More than 200 children gathered at the Christian church on Sunday afternoon for the junior rally which showed the part the juniors play in the work of the Christian Endeavor. Mrs. Chester Rutledge, missionary superintendent of Los Angeles county union, led the singing, after which the juniors formed a "Chain of Golden Promises" to bind them fast to Jesus, volunteers reciting Bible verses which promise God's care for mankind. The promises were printed on golden paper and the chain when completed, fastened together a cross, symbolic of the love of god, and a heart, representing the hearts of men.

The most impressive number on the program was presented by the members of the "Lodge of Junior Conquerors" of Watsonville. These boys and girls have a real lodge ,with an elaborate ceremonial, which confers some fifteen degrees; they are oathbound to work for Christ, and, marching to inspiring music, went through the ceremony of admission of a new member.

Rev. Warren T. Howe, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Watsonville is founder of the lodge and invites other churches to membership. The applause accorded the staunch young "Conquerors" showed the ready appeal their militant order would have for almost any boy or girl.

Two banners were presented at the rally, the second banner to the juniors of the Boyle Heights Calvary Baptist church, which sent a delegation of seventy-eight to the convention. The first banner went to the juniors from Brea, there were only ten of them, but they came forty miles, and according to the judges ten times forty is four-hundred. There were about sixty organizations represented.

Mary Louise Farr Is Hostess For Birthday

Little Mary Louise Farr was the hostess at a very pretty party in honor of her fifth birthday, Friday, June 24, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Harry E. Farr, 554 West Broadway. The little folks showered her with birthday remembrances and spent the afternoon playing games on the lawn. Later a table centered with a big basket filled with Shasta daisies and Cecil Brunner roses was spread, loaded with goodies, and crowned with a beautiful birthday cake.

The guests who enjoyed the afternoon included Frances Haring, Freda Haring, William Swanner, William Vreeland, John Bucher, William Bucher, Helen Ann Haring, Evelyn Klann, Edith Klann, Lucile Phillips, Bernice Miller, Frances Virginia Tarbell. Guests of the little girl's mother and her cousin, Mrs. E. V. Jelleson were Mrs. Lena Haring, Miss Ella Haring and Miss Nell Ageng of Terra Haute, Indiana, Mrs. Fred Pittenger of Inglewood, Mrs. Joe Haring of Hollywood and Miss Lulu Teager of Glendale.

STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF C. E. MEETS

Early Reservations For Mount Hermon Conference Urged By Harry Allan

The annual meeting of the executive committee of the state Christian Endeavor took place Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist church, with B. Irvin Valentine, president, in the chair. After song service, the introductory prayer was given by Dr. Rowland B. Dodge, of the Congregational Board of San Francisco.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Reese Martin, general secretary, and approved as read. Harry Allan, associate field secretary, reported on the coming summer conference at Mount Hermon, and advised all those districts which were planning to send delegates to make an early reservation, as the indications were that a great many more than the 300 for whom allotments had been made, would desire to go.

To Pass on Resolutions

A rule was made to the effect that the annual resolutions be submitted to the executive committee by the committee on resolutions, before they were read to the convention. This, it was said, was for the purpose of avoiding unnecessary embarrassment and discussion.

President Valentine stated that it was the intention of the convention to put new life into the prayer room this year. Too often in the past it had been a prayer room in name only. The prayer room is situated in the rear of the auditorium and delegates are earnestly invited to attend the same.

The concluding prayer was made by Dr. J. R. Pratt, of the Lincoln Avenue Presbyterian church of Pasadena.

Intermediates Hold Two Great Meetings

At the Intermediate rally held yesterday afternoon in the Methodist church, a song service led by Harold Cross of Los Angeles, special selections by the Intermediate quartet and brief addresses by six young people featured the meeting.

George Stanley, Glendale; Robert Wheatley, Los Angeles; Hazel Senor, Esparto; Clara Munsey, Berkeley; Beth Thomas, Arcadia; Marion Graham, Porterville; Evangelist Harry Rimmer and Field Secretary Paul C. Brown gave stirring addresses on "Looking Unto Jesus." Mrs. Paul C. Brown favored with a solo. At 4 o'clock Ralph Isbell, former president of Los Angeles county union addressed the Intermediate boys, Glenn Moon, assistant superintendent of Los Angeles county, presiding. At 6:15 o'clock the Intermediates gathered in large numbers in the main audience room of the Methodist church for the regular devotional services. Howard L. Brown of Glendale presiding. This service consisted of short prayers, scripture recitation, testimonies. Quite a number of the delegates told of new plans and resolutions formed at the convention which will be put into practice and lived out in the home unions. A Chinese young man, present as a delegate, evoked considerabel applause. He told how he had come from the center of China to this country; of his conversion; his joy in Christian service and how he was preparing to go back to his own people as a messenger of Christ.

He's Man Of Courage, Declares J. O. Corliss

Editor The Evening News: It seems good to hear of a man nowadays who stands for the right regardless of popular sentiment. Such a man, however, according to reports, is the Rev. D. H. Jones, a Baptist clergyman of Huntington Park, Calif. When the recent wave of Sunday closing by civil law sentiment struck the town of his residence, he opposed the movement publicly, which reacted upon him in open persecution. So strong was this, even in his own congregation, that he was forced to resign his pastorate.

His course of action was based on principles so manifestly correct as to be unassailable, except by gross reproach amounting to near defamation. His fundamentals of doctrine have, however, remained as steadfast as logic can fix them, thus giving him confidence to say, as reported, that he would rather be "right than religious." He explains himself on this point to mean that he prefers to "dwell with the worldling, being true to his inner self, than to live with the saint and betray it."

One truth enunciated by the Rev. Jones has passed unscathed the test of the ages, and is worth repeating over and over again. It is this: "There is a way to make the church superattractive; but it will never be done by coercing the consciences of men. The cross of Christ is proving to be the greatest magnet in the world, but use it as a club, and it becomes a colossal failure." To succeed in its work as an evangelical force, Mr. Jones declares that "the church must win by the power of love, rather than by force of law."

Another statement drawn from an English nineteenth century colloequial, is as forceful as it is true. Here it is: "The doctrine behind the Sunday law demands is this: 'I am in the right and you are in the wrong. When you are stronger than I you ought to tolerate me; for it is your duty to tolerate truth. But when I am the stronger, I shall persecute you; for it is my duty to persecute error.'"

But even though a civil majority may hold the "whip hand," and wield its thong in the name of religion, it does not prove them to be in the right. On the contrary it but reveals the truthfulness of the Christian warning given nineteen centuries ago, that the world will hate and persecute those who desire Christian freedom. This premonition was not restricted to any single period, but applies to every generation since its utterance.

Then again, the Saviour of the world said of His work, that if any man hears His words, and chooses not to believe them, He does not judge him, because His mission is not to judge the world, but to save it. John 12:47. Then why not follow the God-man's example by preaching the gospel with divine power to save men's souls, rather than to seek for civil power by which to control their Heaven-born liberties?

J. O. CORLISS.

Sunday Morning Service Full Of Advice For Young People Attending

By W. F. TOWER

Sunday morning exercises opened with a song service led by Otis Ironmonger. It seemed like old times to Glendale people and reminded one of the John Brown campaign to have Mr. Ironmonger to again lead the singing in his energetic manner. Old familiar songs were used. The congregation heartily entered into the singing. Prayer was offered by the Rev. William D. Ogg of Eureka.

The pastor of the Lincoln Avenue Presbyterian church, the Rev. J. R. Pratt, delivered the keynote address of the convention taking as his topic the motto of the 1921 convention: "Looking Unto Jesus." Text, Hebrews 12-2.

Refers to Abel's Ofering

He said in part:

"It is very necessary that in the use of scripture that we read the context. For every text is determined by its context's scope. The chapter preceding the one in which my text is found, the eleventh chapter, is an art gallery filled with the heroic men. Men who had obtained a good report, who had a record that they pleased God. How by faith in the promised Christ. Abel's offering was a type of Christ, as also was every lamb sacrificed from that period down. Enoch walked with God. Noah taught of Christ and his ark was a type of Christ. And so on in order did Abraham, Isaac and Joseph all pointed to the promised Saviour in their teachings and their lives.

"Notwithstanding their faith and righteous lives they all had their defects. The types were imperfect. But in Jesus, the incomprehensible gift to the world do we find perfection. Only by looking to Him through faith can we hope to succeed. Concluding this pen picture the Apostle opens the twelfth chapter by these words: 'Wherefore, seeing we are encompassed about by a great cloud of witnesses—these triumphant saints—let us run the race.'

Urges "Pep" in Prayers

"How appropriate this injunction is to this age when we are all keyed up to the highest tension. All the world on the run. And this is my message to all Endeavorers. To put more enthusiasm into our Christian activities. More "pep" into the prayer meetings. More zeal into our personal work.

"We have the greatest standard to rally to. The greatest work to accomplish ever committed to man. Let us qualify for the race. Run lawfully. Lay aside every weight. Every questionable thing. Give God the benefit of the doubt. For this is an important race. Lay aside the besetting sin, which is unbelief. Have faith in God and the impossibilities—humanly speaking—will be possible. No difficulties with God. Miraculous power at our disposal."

"Daddy" McAfee Speaks

After a solo by Mr. Ironmonger, Rev. L. A. (Daddy) McAfee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Berkeley, gave an instructive address on "How to Make This a Profitable Convention." Mr. McAfee is a man of middle life, but has all the fine enthusiasm of youth. He has attended seventeen consecutive annual California state conventions and the more he goes the more he wants to. By reason of his attendance he is an authority on conventions. How they should be vonducted and how to get the best out of them. He gave five suggestions, as follows:

Five Cardinal Rules

1—Be present. Bring your whole self along. Have your machinery in good running condition. Hit on all four cylinders.

2—Don't try to do too much. To attend too many things. Don't overeat. Be regular in attendance. Stick to the Bible class or conference where you belong.

3—Bring Bible notebook and pencil. Make notes and carry away the fine things that you have heard. Take home the inspiration and pep and pass it along to the ones at home.

4—Have fellowship. Through talks and prayers you hear, in conversation and in social contact, practice giving and receiving.

5—Be helpful. Help someone in Glendale. Help lift someone's burden. Introduce your Christ to some Christless person living in Glendale. Don't leave Glendale until you leave some good behind. Try to leave Glendale a little better than you found it.

Gurnee And Merrill Families On Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gurnee and daughter, LeVerne, and Mrs. H. M. Merrill, all of 340 North Cedar street, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Springer of Los Angeles, motored to Altadena yesterday afternoon, where they visited Mrs. Springer's sister, who is a patient in a sanitarium at that place.

Before returning to Glendale the party enjoyed a trip to several of the beach cities, where they visited with friends.

SECRETARY'S DUTIES ARE EXACTING; MAKES GOOD TO LAST DETAIL

MARJORIE SMITH

In no small degree is the success of the big Christian Endeavor convention due to the cordial tact and untiring efforts of Miss Marjorie Smith, secretary of the Glendale convention committee. Miss Smith, who is a member of the local Presbyterian Christian Endeavor, has not only attended to the voluminous correspondence of the general committee, but has done yeoman service in the many other branches of work in connection with the preparations for the big convention. For weeks the convention headquarters have been in the office of Roy L. Kent company and Miss Smith has put in many long hours handling the preliminaries to the big gathering.

Morning On Hilltop Finds 1000 Delegates At Prayer Services

Convention delegates turned out a thousand strong to the early morning hilltop praise service yesterday morning at 7 a. m. in the Verdugo Hills at the head of Louise street.

A considerable number with exceptional vigor did not stop on the first hill, but continued on to the next higher one.

The service, however, was held on top of the first hill. It was in charge of Leon V. Shaw of Pasadena, ex-state president.

Up above the fog and surrounded by the early songsters of the bird family an interesting and impressive meeting was ite passages of scripture and redress, but a large number of the young men and women took part offering prayers, reciting favorite passages of scripture and relating personal testimony.

The outstanding feature of the program was spontaneously the zeal of the delegates. The twenty-third Psalm was recited in concert. Leader Shaw closed the quiet hour by reading selections from Henry Van Dyke's "Ode to the Open Air."

The Pacific Electric ran special cars for the accommodation of the delegates to and from the foothills.

Increasing Numbers At Dr. F. L. Riley's Talk

Notwithstanding the fact that many are enjoying their summer outings and vacations, that Glendale at present is enjoying the presence of thousand delegates of the Christian Endeavor the lecture of Dr. Frank L. Riley at Masonic hall, was listened to by an increasing number of persons.

The subject, as announced, was "The Wise Man Rules His Stars," a brief synopsis of which follows:

"Psychology has been defined as 'the science of the mind.' Also as the 'bridge' which unites physics and metaphysics.

"Some students are inclined to define thought as though it were a product or function of the brain, which is a mistake. The brain is the instrument of the mind.

"Descartes, the great French philosopher, writes: 'I think, therefore I am.'

"Man is fundamentally a thinker, which distinguishes him from the lower animals.

Psychology is one of the most important principals of the higher psychology are as follows:

"First—God is the Mind which is the one intelligence and the only Power.

"Second—Man, the thinker, is the image and likeness of Mind (God). He is a microcosm.

"Third—'Have that mind in you which was also in Christ Jesus.'

"Fourth—'As a man thinketh in his heart so is he.'

"The person who has pure, beautiful, loving thoughts is the healthy, successful happy man."

Subject for Sunday morning, July 3, at 11 o'clock, "The Principals of Applied Psychology." Sunday school at 9:45 o'clock.

Dear Friend—By unanimous action of the Session at a regular meeting on Monday, June 13th, every voter in the congregation is urged to consider certain facts relative to the coming election for City Trustees, and this letter was ordered sent to every voter.

Sooner or later in the life of every individual and every community there comes a crisis in morals, a serious question of right or wrong.

As stated by our pastor in a recent article in the Glendale Press, also in a sermon by the Rev. C. A. Cole, there is in Glendale at present a campaign of lies which is so outstanding that no self-respecting individual can let them pass unchallenged, and if this clean city is to remain clean we must not experiment in the selection of City Trustees.

This is a church town and the growth and development is due in a very large measure to the clean, wholesome atmosphere which the churches have jealously guarded. We have persistently fought the public pool hall and shall continue to do so. Even the Los Angeles papers condemn this institution.

The pastors of our church, backed up by the Session, are urging you and every voter whom you can influence to go to the polls WITHOUT FAIL on Tuesday, June 28th, and vote the entire ticket suggested by the Federated Brotherhood representing the Protestant forces of Glendale. We are defeated if we scratch the ticket. There are other good men not on this ticket, but only five can be elected, hence the Brotherhood was very careful and took plenty of time to select those who in their judgment would represent and work for the best interests of our city.

Please lay aside every personal preference you may have for the sake of unity and victory. We simply must elect this ticket. Do all you can for the protection of our homes and the glory of God.

BY ORDER OF THE SESSION,

W. E. EDMONDS, Pastor.
LOUIS TINNING, Asst. Pastor.

Now, can you, intelligent voter of Glendale, distinguish any particular "crisis in morals" in our city? Can you see any unusual reason to rush to the "Protection of Our Homes"? Can you see just how the election of the Brotherhood's ticket will add to the "Glory of God"?

Garbage Collection Tag Sale Is Begun

H. W. Hollenbeck, city sanitary inspector, with his crew of six men and women, today began a complete "Garbage Tag" canvass of the city. These tags, which are sold for $1 each, will entitle the holder to dispose of garbage to the city wagons for a period of three months.

The recent garbage ordinance passed by the council stipulates no garbage will be collected by the city after July 1, unless a tag be presented.

Boys Get Gum, Also Slot Machine Pennies

Among the several minor misdemeanors reported to the police department yesterday was that of two boys, about 17 years of age, "jimmying" a slot machine on the corner of California and Brand. Although the miscreants got away with the gum and a few pennies the local authorities have a description of them, which will aid them in the search.

CITY OF OAKLAND MAKES FIGHT TO GET GATHERING

C. E. Convention Meeting Place Claims Will Be Heard Tonight, Is Plan

With every seat in the big auditorium at Harvard and Orange avenues filled and the aisles jammed to capacity, more than 3500 delegates were present at Sunday night's session of the Christian Endeavor convention. With the ushers insisting that there was positively no more room, and equally insistent delegates declaring that there simply must be a seat found for them, the gathering took on the atmosphere of an old-time political convention.

Otis Ironmonger again opened the meeting with community singing, and, if such a thing is possible, made even a greater hit than at the opening meeting the night before. In fact it was a somewhat difficult task to get the eager delegates to discontinue the song service and get down to the serious business of the evening—the offering. A strong plea by Arthur J. Gatter, chairman of the business committee, to the delegates to make their offerings liberal on this occasion to help defray the expenses of the many prominent speakers, met with a quick response; the announcement of President Valentine that there were 3500 delegates present and more than 1000 more expected before the end of the session, adding considerable enthusiasm to the occasion.

Oakland Wants Convention

An announcement to the effect that delegates of the cities desiring to hold the 1922 convention would be given an opportunity to present their claims this evening, created a stir throughout the audience. A strong fight is to be made by the Oakland delegation to land this honor, and at the present moment it would appear that they are very likely to succeed in landing this plum.

The address of the evening was delivered by the Rev. Francis J. Van Horn of the First Congregational church of Oakland, in whose church the first California Christian Endeavor union was formed in 1888. The theme, "Looking Unto Jesus for the Home Challenge,'.. was ably handled by the popular Oakland divine, who selected for his text Mark 10:22 and Acts 6:8.

In looking over the faces of the delegates Dr. Van Horn was caused to remark upon the youth and health that shone therefrom.

"Richer Than Rockefeller"

"Youth is priceless, and you that have it have something that is beyond price," he declared. "You are richer tonight that John D. Rockefeller if you have youth and health. With youth, health and ambition, the Kingdom of God is before you."

A stirring tribute was paid to Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts of Glendale and the choir of 150 voices that she has trained for this occasion, by Otis Ironmonger, song leader of the convention, who declared upon the conclusion of the choir's nightly anthem, that it was the greatest piece of musical work in the history of Christian Endeavor conventions.

The closing words were delivered by Paul C. Brown of Los Angeles, field secretary.

CASHIER OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK UPON FINANCE COMMITTEE

R. F. KITTERMAN

Finances of the state Christian Endeavor convention general committee are being looked after in a most complete manner by the finance committee of which R. F. Kitterman, cashier of the First National bank of Glendale, is a member. Mr. Kitterman has taken a deep interest in the bringing of the convention to Glendale and has given the general committee much valuable assistance in its efforts to make the state gathering a complete success in every detail. Mr. Kitterman is a member of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and that organization has given much assistance to the convention committee. Other members of the finance committee are A. L. Baird, chairman; Blake Franklin, George Higby and James Cooper.

'FOUR HORSEMEN OF APOCALYPSE' IS GREAT FILM

Eleven Reels Of Life Thrown On Silver Screen At The Palace Grand Today

Held spellbound by its lavish staging, and awed and inspired by its wondrous story, hundreds yesterday flocked to the Palace Grand Theatre to see one of the greatest motion pictures ever produced—"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," a Metro million dollar picturization of the novel by Vicente Blasco Ibanez.

With a cast that lives, rather than acts their respective parts, all of the characters of the widely read novel step forth from their leather bindings onto the silver-sheet, and reenact the most thrilling and entertaining story that has ever been used as screen material.

As a preachment against war, "The Four Horsemen" will probably do more than one hundred statesmen, while its vivid depiction of right and wrong will undoubtedly prove a boon to civilization.

Told in eleven reels of action, heart interest, drama and comedy, this masterful cinema creation can be classed as one of "the better pictures"—entertaining the masses and the classes.

Director Rex Ingram has established a new era of motion picture production through his masterful handling of the Ibanez story. June Mathis, also deserves credit for the success of the picture, for it can be truthfully said that a more perfect continuity could never be attained than that of "The Four Horsemen."

Produced at a cost of $1,000,000, and enacted with a cast of 13,000, "The Four Horsemen" lives up to its advance reports, and then some. It is the greatest motion picture that has ever been shown in Glendale; it is a picture with a soul, and one that will live on.

Rudolph Valentino, as Julio, gives an excellent interpretation of the inebriate grandson, while Alice Terry, as Marguerite, is equally as well cast. All in all "The Four Horsemen" is perfect entertainment, and should have successful engagement at the Palace Grand, where it will be shown again today and tomorrow.

13 Ex-Presidents On Platform Same Time

Thirteen ex-presidents graced the platform at last night's meeting. Those in attendance who have previously served in this capacity were: J. M. Warren of Santa Barbara, Leon V. Shaw of Los Angeles, Paul C. Brown of Los Angeles, Harry H. Godber of Pasadena, J. P. Welles of Los Angeles, A. W. Johnson of San Francisco, A. J. Gatter of Los Angeles, W. P. Willimott of Fresno, Henry P. Rankin of Santa Ana, Howard L. Brown of Los Angeles, Harry C. Allan of San Francisco, Charles C. Culver of Los Angeles and Benj. J. Small of Oakland.

To eliminate any chance of a hoodoo number, there will be 14 tomorrow night with the addition of President Valentine. The election of officers is tomorrow morning.

JUSTIFICATION

Good Government League Tells Why It Entered the Campaign

Sunday Legislation, a Nation-Wide Movement

Dr. Harry L. Bowlby, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of America and also general secretary of the Presbyterian committee on Sabbath Observance, who gave in his annual report to the General Assembly held in Winona Lake, Ind., in May, is quoted as follows:

[From the Philadelphia Public Ledger, Nov. 28, 1920]

"We are well financed. Our lobby at Washington will be an effective and experienced one. We shall work in every Congressional district in every state. We shall agitate and spread propaganda, and cause voters to write unceasingly to their representatives in Congress until no Congressman who cares to stay in Congress will dare refuse to vote for our measures. These were the methods used by the Anti-Saloon League, and they were effective.

"We propose to pass no blue laws. There are no such things as blue laws—never were. And we don't propose to legislate people into church. We propose, by legislation, to make it easier for people to go to church. In other words, we shall try to close the baseball parks, the golf links, the motion picture and other theatres, the concert halls, the amusement parks, the bathing beaches, and so on. We shall fight all amusements where an admission fee is charged. We shall oppose golf, tennis, baseball, football, and other sports, even if purely amateur and void of financial cost to those watching or taking part, because they set bad examples for children who otherwise might be content to go to Sunday school.

"We shall seek to restrict the sale of gasoline for pleasure automobiles, and urge other measures that will stop Sunday automobiling and joy riding. This will not bring the old-fashioned horse and buggy back, because we believe that the Lord's day should be a day of rest for man and beast. Excursion steamer rides on Sunday will be opposed by us on the ground that they are unnecessary to the moral welfare of Christian America."

"How many churches are behind this movement?" the reporter asked.

"Sixteen denominations," he replied. "Really, we have seventeen, for while the Lutheran Synod did not indorse this movement officially, the Lutherans are with us. Only the Roman Catholics, the Unitarians, the Seventh-day Adventists, and the Jews are outside this movement. And to be perfectly frank with you, they will have to conform to the laws if we succeed. The Jew will have to observe our Sabbath. As a matter of fact, he might as well, because Saturday is not, after all, his Sabbath. He is wrong by the revised calendar. Therefore, it will work no hardship for him to attend his synagogue on the same day we attend our churches.

"No, I see no reason why the public libraries or the art galleries should remain open on Sunday. We shall seek to eliminate the huge Sunday newspapers, and establish a censorship over the stuff that gets into them on other days. . . .

"Of course, we shall back no law that would compel a man or a woman to attend church. But we believe that if we take away a man's motor car, his golf sticks, his Sunday newspaper, his horses, his pleasure steamships, amusement houses, and parks, and prohibit him from playing outdoor games or witnessing field sports, he naturally will drift back to church."

To show that this Puritanical spirit has not changed since last November, the following is given from Dr. Bowlby's report to the Presbyterian General Assembly at Winona Lake, May 21:

Go to Church Urged

"The committee believes that 'go-to-church Sundays' are good and helpful, but that there would be no urgent need of them if we had a proper observance of the Lord's Day. If the people properly observe the Sabbath they will be found in the house of God on that day.

"Remove these counter-attractions and distractions of the day and it will prove a far easier matter to woo and win back a multitude of young people who have lost the way to the Bible school and the church. Close up the Sunday movie and theatre, shut the gates of the baseball parks, lock the doors of many open places of business, make more attractive, but none the less spiritual, the meetings of the church, and this paramount problem of the churches will be well on the way to a definite and effective solution."

To show it is not all a joke, this news reprint is submitted, dated May 22:

"On Saturday the assembly voted unanimously in favor of a concerted effort for stricter enforcement of the blue laws and religious observance of the Sabbath. Today they had an opportunity to witness a literal application of the blue laws. Ever since Winona was founded, twenty-five years ago, blue laws have been rigidly enforced. Local regulations forbid Sunday bathing, boating, fishing and other sports. Ice cream parlors, candy and cigar stores are closed and even the sale of Sunday newspapers is prohibited on the grounds.

Do the people of Glendale want these conditions to prevail in the finest city the sun e'er shone on?

It will be noted that our ministers emphatically disclaim any proposed enactment of "Blue Laws." So does Dr. Bowlby, who says: "We propose to pass no blue laws. There are no such things as blue laws—never were." What perfidy! And is it here we find the "joker"? Is this the card our ministerial friends have "up their sleeves"? Is this the reason for their non-committal evasiveness?

Dr. Bowlby proposes no "blue laws," but what an unholy abomination he proposes in their stead.

"I would just as soon believe the perfume of the rose comes from a polecat as to believe that the spirit of the blue laws comes from God.

"'Close every other door except the churches,' cries the reformer, forgetting that open HEARTS are greater inducements than closed doors."—Rev. J. D. Jones, Huntington Park.

The League has always spoken of a "Sunday Closing" issue, not "Blue Laws," but at this time the terms will be used synonymously.

The national issue is out in the open—arrogant. The local connection is denied by pastors and others, but it will here be made plain that the desire exists, and the League believes that given proper conditions, action would follow.

That a sympathetic city council would supply the proper conditions is believed by the League to be the underlying reason for the Brotherhood's eagerness to elect such a one.

THE LOCAL ISSUE

(From sermon of Rev. C. A. Cole, June 5.)

"Our city is as nearly ideal as any in the country. Of course, there are many things that many of us would have different, but we are not going to resort to subterfuge or personal compulsion to bring them about, nor do we propose any Sunday laws."

Now, that sounds right, but listen: * * * "I believe that an American community should also see that commercialized amusement should not compete at the hour of worship with the greatest institution in the nation—the church—and it ought not to be countenanced."

Are you not slightly contradicting yourself, and would it not be Sunday legislation to prevent it, Brother Cole?

TWO LETTERS BY THE REV. W. E. EDMONDS:

Seriously, Mr. Editor, there are no "blue laws" contemplated by any minister of the gospel or the Ministerial association of Glendale, and the ten members of this association are ready and willing to meet any ten citizens of Glendale whom any organization may select, and ask these twenty men to sit as jury, and if they find any "blue laws" or any plan looking toward such a move, we will sign our names to a statement giving in detail just what is proposed. Will any organization accept the challenge?

Brother Cole, you are right. No city can prosper and build up on a foundation of lies. The people are wise. Yon can't fool all the people all the time. Let us adhere to the injunction of the "Good Book": "Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbor."

(Signed) Rev. W. E. EDMONDS.

To the Ministerial Union, Pomona, Cal.:

The Women's Bible classes of First Presbyterian church of Glendale, seconded by the Men's Bible class, and endorsed unanimously by the Presbyterian congregation assembled for worship, desire hereby to extend our hearty congratulations and make known to you our Christian rejoicing because of the victory you have won in the securing of the closing of the motion picture houses in your city on the Sabbath day.

May Glendale speedily emulate your worthy example is our great desire.

Yours in sympathetic Christian fellowship.

J. Wohlfeld Invents Concrete Incinerator

J. Wohlfeld of this city is introducing a new type of incinerator to his friends that bids fair to become one of the most used articles of this type in the country. It is built of strong concrete and has proved itself both an ornament and a safe and sane necessity to many Glendale homes. City Manager T. W. Watson states that he wishes every house in town could be furnished with one of these splendid incinerators as it would not only help to make a clean city more clean, but would aid in the prevention of fires from burning trashpiles and improperly constructed incinerators.

Mr. Wohlfeld has lived in Glendale for some years and has had something of the kind in mind ever since he came here, as he has been much impressed by the rapid building and the congestion of small homes which necessitates the utmost care in regard to all burning and makes absolute cleanliness obligatory.

Thursday Club Picnic Thoroughly Enjoyed

The annual picnic and outing of the Thursday Afternoon club took place Friday afternoon at La Ramada, with about thirty-five ladies in attendance. The festivities started at 11:30 o'clock when the members gathered around the old Spanish table and enjoyed a picnic luncheon.

Following the luncheon a business session, which was presided over by Mrs. E. V. Bacon, was held and plans made for the coming year's activities. The meeting was conducted as the annual closing affair of the last regular year's work, and reports of the various committees were made.

"We had a mild winter—no ice, little snow."

"And no blizzards in sight. It's hardly worth while coming out in a straw hat."

You Can't Buy a Packard for the Price of a Ford

Neither can you buy meat from choice young steers for the same price as you can that from old cows, etc.

The Glendale Market enjoys one of the largest meat patronages in Glendale for the reason we are extremely careful in selecting meats. Our buyer personally visits the packing houses and chooses only the choicest quarters—for which we pay a little more and charge a trifle more.

The difference in what we charge, however, for the best meats, and what some charge for inferior grades is so small as to be scarcely noticeable.

People who enjoy eating tender, luscious steaks and other cuts, appreciate the quality of meat we sell, and are our regular patrons.

You, too, would be pleased with our meats and service, if you would but give us a trial.

C. E. ORGANIZATION IS POPULAR WITH YOUNG PEOPLE

Starts First In 1881 And Grows Steadily; First Starts In Maine

The Christian Endeavor Union represents the most phenomenal and rapid growth in the annals of religious movements. Starting at the Congregational church in the small village of Williston, Maine, in 1881, when the Rev. Francis E. Clark signed up 21 members, this society is now the largest organization of young people in the world. Prior to this time there had been no organization where the young people of the various churches could get together in religious and social conference. The purpose of this organization, as outlined by Dr. Clark, was to form an organization for the promotion of Christian fellowship, social life and charity and good will.

A rapid growth followed throughout the United States and Europe, until today the Christian Endeavor is represented in all of the evangelical denominations of the world, with a membership of over 4,000,000. Eighteen denominations are represented in the union, and the first 7, placed in accordance with their numerical strength, are as follows: Presbyterian, Christian, Congregational, Baptists, Brethren, United Presbyterians and Friends.

First California Union

The first California Union was organized in Oakland in 1887, and at present has a membership of over 42,000, with 1500 Young People's, Intermediate and Junior societies, representing eighteen denominations. The California Union leads the world in the number of Quiet Hour comrades, Tenth Legion members and Intermediate societies. The California Union is an organization existing wholly within and a part of the churches, interdenominational in character, state-wide in its scope, and commissioned to seek out, train and inspire young people. With the exception of the two field secretaries, all of the officers serve entirely without pay.

Recognizing the tremendous value of such an organization to the moral, social and economic welfare of the country, many of the state's most prominent and able citizens have interested themselves in this movement. Among California's most noted men who have worked with the Christian Endeavor, are: Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of Los Angeles, prominent attorney, and at present a member of the State Supreme court; Peter Clarke McFarlane of Los Angeles, internationally known as a writer of fiction; Giles Kellog of Los Angeles, secretary of the Union Oil company, who was formerly state president, and last but not least, our own Howard L. Brown, a former state president.

People Enjoying Good Vaudeville At Home

The extraordinarily large turnout at the Glendale Theatre Saturday to see Meiklejohn & Dunn's vaudeville road show conclusively proves that Glendale people like to see good entertainment here rather than going to Los Angeles and standing in line for several hours. The California Girls' quartet was the feature while the other acts were unusually good. The vaudeville is a Saturday feature at the Glendale.

DELEGATES PLEASED WITH RECEPTION BY GLENDALE COMMITTEE

MISS CAROL DUNCAN

The chairman of the reception committee for the state Christian Endeavor convention is Miss Carol Duncan and she is one of the reasons why the incoming delegates were made to feel at home, for her committee, under her direction, gave the visitors a real Glendale welcome. Many novel features were arranged by the reception committee in connection with convention week and every one is proving successful—all of which means that Miss Duncan and her assistants had many weeks of work before their plans were so well carried out. The reception committee deserves a great deal of credit for the pleasing way in which the delegates are being greeted and made to feel at home. The picture is by Isaac Studio.

City Of Good Things To Eat, As Well As Noted City Of Homes

When the question arose, "How will the 4000 visitors be fed during their stay in Glendale?" the ladies of the chuches came nobly to the fore and took charge of that important part of the convention.

The First Methodist Episcopal choir is running a cafeteria at the high school, serving lunch and dinner to all comers, and in a separate room three meals daily to the convention officials at a very low cost. Mrs. M. S. Kuehny is in charge and has a group of very willing workers and famous cooks under her.

The ladies of the First Methodist Episcopal church, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Chas. Starkey, will serve lunch and dinner in the recreation hall of the church, where nine long tables have been spread. The banquet today will be served by the same committee.

There is a most attractive little dining room in the parlors of the Christian church, where luncheon and dinner will be served Tuesday and on all days following. One can pass by the church at almost any hour and be greeted with the tantalizing smell of freshly-baked cakes and pies.

It wouldn't be surprising if all California soon hears of Glendale as "the place where you get such good things to eat."

Makes Statement to Voters

I desire to state that I have made a clean campaign, and have made no statements to injure any of the many candidates, or pledges to any one whatsoever. I have been endorsed by organizations and by my friends and neighbors, all of which I very much appreciate. They have been talking for me, but I believe the voters might like a few words directly from me.

I am for using all due haste in establishing a sewer in the business district, also for the building of at least one or two comfort stations, which are absolute necessities. I am for full publicity of public business.

I will favor anything along sane business lines for the benefit of the city as a whole.

After all the minor issues in the campaign have cleared away, as they will, there will be but one left, and that is the business of the city. Nothing but fair, hard-headed business methods will solve that issue to the satisfaction of all the people.

If I am elected, it will be my highest ambition to be one of five to help establish under our new charter, a sane, forward looking business administration, one which will merit the confidence of the people in all parts of the city. To accomplish these ends, I will give my time and energy.

Respectfully asking the support of the voters, I am,

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL A. DAVIS

SCORES STEPHENSON IN AFFIDAVIT ON CEMETERY

R. W. Peterman, In His Sworn Statement, Tells About Proposed Ordinance

Startling charges, embodied in an affidavit by Russell W. Peterman, Glendale business man and property owner, directed against Dwight W. Stephenson, were made public this morning.

In his sworn statement, Peterman alleges that Stephenson, candidate on the Good Government ticket for trustee, not only fostered the proposed cemetery extension ordinance which he introduced May 5, but also that he refused to pledge himself that such measures would be opposed by him in the future.

Peterman's affidavit follows:

R. W. Peterman, being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

I am a citizen and taxpayer of Glendale and reside at 1625 South Glendale avenue; I am thirty (30) years of age and have a family consisting of a wife and two children. I have lived in Glendale three years. I purchased my home on South Glendale avenue with my life's savings with the intention of making that my permanent home. If I had at that time thought that there was any possibility of the extension of the Forest Lawn cemetery northerly along Glendale avenue I would not have purchased that property.

On May 5, 1921, the cemetery extension ordinance was quietly introduced. I use the word "quietly" advisedly because I have diligently inquired of a large number of residents of Glendale, both near to and far from the cemetery, and I have yet to find any citizens who were notified of the introduction of this ordinance before that time or after that time until the fact of its introduction was accidentally discovered. Dwight W. Stephenson introduced this ordinance. I am informed and believe and on that ground state that he did not consult the citizens of Glendale who would be particularly damaged by this extension nor did he take pains to notify the public generally that this ordinance had been introduced. Stephenson states in his published letter, "The introduction was noted in the minutes of the Board and a copy of the minutes published in both of our local papers." The only notation in the minutes was as follows: "Interment of Dead Bodies. An ordinance was presented regulating the interment of dead bodies of human beings in the city of Glendale and laid over." (Page 697, Minutes of Board of Trustees). This title gives no intimation of the extension of the cemetery. The text of the ordinance was not published. The real import of this ordinance was discovered by accident the day before it was to come up for final hearing. On Thursday noon, May 12, 1921, I went to the city hall to make an investigation. The city clerk was out and I was unable to get access to any records except the minutes of the preceding meeting, which merely referred to the ordinance by its misleading title. I was unable to get a copy of the ordinance. I came back later in the afternoon and was given a copy of the ordinance to read. After reading the ordinance I asked the city clerk if he knew that ordinance meant and pointed out to him that the ordinance provided for an extension of the cemetery up Glendale avenue and the clerk stated, "No, it doesn't come to Glendale avenue. It merely takes in the hills farther back." The clerk was apparently misinformed regarding the purport of this ordinance and I took him to the map and he then conceded that the ordinance did provide for the extension of the cemetery as I had pointed out to him. I have known Dwight W. Stephenson for upwards of three years and even after protests I heard him state publicly substantially as follows: "I do not see that the extension of the cemetery will injure the school, nor will it hurt anybody's property and personally I am in favor of the ordinance." After the withdrawal of the ordinance I discussed the matter with him. During the course of this conversation Mr. Stephenson said, "Mr. Eaton (of the cemetery company) came to me about six months ago and requested me to introduce this ordinance, so I introduced it." I asked Mr. Stephenson, "Suppose this thing comes up again, what will we do?" To this he made an evasive answer. I then asked him, "Do you suppose this thing will come up again next year?" He replied, "It may. If it does you will just have to fight it."

On Monday, May 16, 1921, A. H. Lapham said to me, "Pete," he said, "you know you are up against a brick wall down there. Those cemetery people can do as they please and we can't prevent them." I said, "Well, doesn't the ordinance we have keep them out?" He replied, "That ordinance is no good."

The petitions protesting against the cemetery extension ordinance were circulated throughout all parts of the city of Glendale and were readily signed by citizens living in all parts of the city—north, south, east and west.

From what Mr. Stephenson and Mr. Lapham have both said to me, I do not feel that the people of Glendale can expect proper protection from them against the future extension of this cemetery inside the limits of the city of Glendale.

RUSSELL W. PETERMAN.

'CHURCH OF CHRIST' IS SERMON TOPIC AT FIRST M. E.

Rev. L. A. M'Afee Of Berkeley Occupied Dr. C. M. Crist's Pulpit Yesterday

A large congregation was present at the First Methodist church yesterday morning to listen to an able address by Rev. L. A. McAfee from Berkeley. In introducing him Dr. C. M. Crist voiced the appreciation and pleasure of the church in having this honor bestowed upon them. He also spoke of the great interest which the First Methodist church had in the success of the convention.

In his opening remarks Dr. McAfee said that at one time he was opposed to the denominational idea. But in his experience in the spruce division of the army he had come to see that while some were serving in the navy, some in the marine corps, some in the army and some in the air service, that all was contributing to one end—the winning of the war and the subduing of the kaiser.

Same True in Christ's Forces

"So the same," said he, "in our church companies or regiments. I have recently worshipped in several Methodist churches, have felt at home, sang their hymns and can shout 'amen' as loud as any of them.

"I feel that the Christian world owes a great deal to the early Methodists under the leadership of the Wesleys for their zeal and enthusiasm. There are two traits which have been characteristic of this denomination:

"First—Their enthusiasm, their amens, their hallelujahs, which welled up from sincere hearts; and

"Second—Their preaching and living the victorious life.

"My audience this morning is more or less cosmopolitan. Persons present from various denominations. So I have chosen for my topic "The Church of Christ.' This word church has four definitions, viz.; The building the local church, the general denomination and the universal church composed of all believers.

Takes Text From Matthew 16:18

"It is of the last that I shall speak. My text is found in Matthew 16:18, 'Upon the rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.' I will call your attention to the three special things in this scripture: First, Christ is the architect, the builder, the owner.

"Second—Christ himself is the foundation, the long looked for one of the Old Testament. He of the miraculous birth; He who when He came to maturity performed the marvelous miracles and deeds of mercy, not only Divine but Diety himself. He invites us to relationship to himself. This is the distinguishing feature of the Christian life. My brother, have you come into this relationship? Do you know Jesus?

"Third—The gates of hell shall not prevail against it. We get a wrong view of this text. The church must be on the aggressive. It must press the battle, batter down all gates that impede its onward march. Strike sin wherever found. My mesage to Endeavorers is to be more earnest, more enthusiastic in their Christian life, remembering that no real battle was ever waged between righteousness and unrighteousness, but that the right has won the day."

As to City Clerk

It is generally conceded that this is an office the incumbent of which should not be changed without good cause. An intimate knowledge of city affairs is a prime requisite for the satisfactory performance of the work of this office. The undersigned was elected in April 1920 for a term of four years by the largest vote ever cast in the city for a candidate for office. By adoption of the Charter the term was cut short and it became necessary for the incumbent to stand again for election. There has been no complaint made as to the performance of the work of the office for the years that I have filled the position.

With this brief statement I submit the case to the voters with the assurance that I shall appreciate the support they may give me.

MRS. L. A. WHITE IS GUEST OF HONOR AT SURPRISE

First Party To Be Held In New Residence Here Of John Robert White

Mrs. Llewellyn A. White of Eagle Rock, who is leaving southern California this week-end to spend the summer in Philadelphia visiting relatives, was the guest of honor Friday night at the first party to be held in the John Robert White home, 347 North Orange street.

The affair was in the nature of a surprise for Mrs. White by members of the tennis club to which she belongs. At the conclusion of the evening's entertainment she was presented with a beautiful silk crepe de chine robe and a hat case, both necessities in travel.

Cards and dancing were the divertisements of the evening and Mrs. John Robert White, assisted by Mrs. R. L. McCourt, served delicious refreshments consisting of ice-cream, cake and coffee. The home was prettily decorated in pink dahlias.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John H. Southard, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Heustis, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Messerly, Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn White, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCourt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baily of Eagle Rock, James Mullen, Bob McCourt, Miss Marguerite Eckles, Bob White and Miss Betty Fell.

'Palace Of Darkened Windows' Is Feature At Glendale Theatre

"The Palace of Darkened Windows," a new National Picture is showing today at the Glendale theatre. This principal feature of an attractive photoplay [illegible] portrays in a vivid manner the thrilling chain of events that followed when a young American girl chanced to visit the palace of an Indian prince. Her recklessness nearly cost the life of her best friends anad almost caused international complications.

The leading players are Claire Anderson, Arthur Edmund Carew, Jay Belasco, Christine Mayo, Gerald Pring, Adele Farrington, Virginia Caldwell, Nicholas Dunaev and Virgin True Boardman.

Henry Kolker directed the story which is an adaptation of the book of the same name by Mary Hastings Bradley.

The latest Pathe News, Topics of the Day and the Century lions in "On With the Show" round out an entertaining bill. Tomorrow the feature will be Zane Grey's popular story in pictures, "The Man of the Forest." Harold Lloyd in "Among Those Present" is the comedy half of the show. Tuesday only the second episode of "The Diamond Queen" will be seen.

Big Catch Reported By Local Fishermen

'STRAW MAN' TOPIC OF DR. FUNK'S ADDRESS

Lutheran Minister Explains How Issues Are Made To Meet Applause Of Crowds

Using the scriptural quotation: "Ye have said it is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance." Mal. 3:14, the Dr. H. C. Funk at the First Lutheran church yesterday spoke on the subject, "A Man of Straw," as follows:

"A French novelist, in a tirade against Christianity, has written three books in which he declares that the absence of justice in society is due to the presence of the Christian religion. This writer holds that the teaching of Christ has shackled the intellect and benumbed the conscience; and that no relief may be expected until Christ and the cross are obliterated from the hearts and minds of the people, and so no longer be influenced by their mummeries and mysteries.

"We have also been assured that this writer is not alone in his apathy against Christianity, and that he simply voices the sentiments of a large company of free-thinkers who do not hesitate to lay at the door of our religion all responsibility for all the ignorance, servitude and shame that may exist.

"Now what we wish to do is to inquire as to the facts about these charges. And what do we find?

"First, that no considerable number are clamoring for the destruction of the church. That where many have drifted into an indifferent state they do not, nevertheless, repudiate the Christian religion. The fact is that when we come to inquire closely we learn that, in spite of this apparent indifference, men do not wish to be classed with infidels and skeptics.

"In conclusion, there are those who have been trying to reconcile science and revelation. That is all well enough; but let us not forget that when a man puts in most of his time reconciling Moses and Darwin, and bases his hope of salvation on this reconciliation, he is putting his trust on a man of straw. God's truth does not depend on such a reconciliation. At last men are coming to understand that the social problems, the relation of man to man, and of man to God, are infinitely of greater importance, and have more to do with the welfare and progress of the human race than the question of man's ascent or descent from an ape.

Little Sammy Ate One 'Sun-of-a-Gun'; Now He's Dead Dog

Little Sammy is dead.

He ate a "sun-of-a-gun."

Sammy was Bob McCourt's dog. He lived at 336 North Central avenue.

Day before yesterday there was "sun-of-a-guns" popping on the street and one burned Sammy's nose.

Maybe he thought it was a snapping beetle.

At any rate he ate the dynamite.

And now he's buried.

Do You Blame Me, Altogether?

THIS TIME my open letter is to every citizen of Glendale. I want to make a long explanation and a short apology! Read on, I think this will interest you:

TO MR. C. W. INGLEDUE: Recently I asked Rev. Mr. Edmonds to say what happened at a certain meeting of several ministers and church workers in your store. I was told that it concerned the Sunday issue—your answer to me was that these gentlemen were there advising you to run as a candidate for the Glendale City Council. A splendid explanation. I apologize for allowing myself to be misinformed.

It is also fair to you for me to state that your remark "associating yourselves with thugs and saloon-keepers," referred to work against Sunday legislation in Sacramento and elsewhere, and, of course, not here in Glendale.

Regarding my invitation to set me right on your inquiry to a certain candidate whose indorsement you had signed, I am sorry that it still appears clear to me from what you tell me yourself that you were concerned about this candidate's views on Sunday closing—weeks ago, before the issue was even bared.

I am also sorry that we cannot agree on the matter of Sunday legislation and that you have to feel bad because we are opposing the beginnings of religious control by law, just as some "thugs and saloon keepers"—using your own words—also are fighting, but from entirely different motives. Let me ask you this question: If you found that a certain reprobate was publicly agreeing with your stand on some matter, would you change your mind because the other fellow was a bad one?

TO REV. C. E. EDMONDS: You did not answer my open questions, presumably because you could not. Neither did you answer my personal letter (published in the Press the other day)—presumably because you will not. May I say that your denial that there is a religious issue in Glendale, or in California, or in the United States, is pure camouflage? You know that Glendale is a part of this Country, and that right now the effort of the Presbyterian Church, of which you are a minister, as well as of the National Reform League, of which, I understand, your Presbyterian colleague, Rev. Anthony Bowlby, is the Secretary is in his own words as follows:

"We shall work in every Congressional district in every State. We shall agitate and spread propaganda, and cause voters to write unceasingly to their representatives in Congress until no Congressman who cares to stay in Congress will dare refuse to vote for our measures. . . . We propose to pass no blue laws. There are no such things as blue laws—never were. And we don't propose to legislate people into church. We propose, by legislation, to make it easier for people to go to church. In other words, we shall try to close the baseball parks, the golf links, the motion picture and other theatres, the concert halls, the amusement parks, the bathing beaches, and so on.' (Interview in Phila. Public Ledger, Nov. 28, 1920). Further, Dr. Edmonds, you write in the Glendale Press for Friday, June 10, 1921:

"The program of the past year has resulted in 'a clean city kept clean,' and has brought unheard of prosperity, still some are clamoring for a change and if it cannot be brought about in any other way, they resort to a program of insinuation and endeavor to hide under a refuge of lies. The whole thing is a slam at the things which heretofore have made laws and real civic righteousness." You go on and pay your compliments to those who ars saying: "they see a blue law as a light on the city's horizon and they are trying to extinguish it, when there is no such light. These are blind leaders of the blind, and presently both will fall into the ditch."

Further, you go on and say that no such effort is contemplated by any minister of the Gospel in Glendale, and in the close of this communication you say: "Let us adhere to the injunction of the good Book: 'Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbor.'" That, indeed, is exactly what I am trying to do, and I am called a liar for it!

TO REV. C. A. CRIST: Is it not true that the Methodist Church (South) is trying hard to initiate Sunday legislation in the United States? For instance, in a bill recently drafted by Noah W. Cooper and brought at the request of this organization before the legislature in Tennessee it appears that they want to stop every passenger train and freight car on Sunday, stop the United States mail service, and every street car and automobile, stop all recreation, all amusements, close every public park and every other avenue on Sunday except the one which led to the church door, so as "to make it easier to go to church on Sunday."

To bring this nearer home, is not the following statement taken from your Sunday sermon, reported in the Glendale Evening News for Tuesday, May 31, under the remarkable title: "Church Has Right in Politics, is Pastor's View," very easily mistaken for a pronouncement in favor of Sunday laws?

"If the American Church is to save the world, the American politician must be a Christian. . . . Much criticism from several quarters has been offered because of the Church's activity in political affairs. Well, God pity the community if the Church does not take part. . . Another fundamental of a Christian nation is the Christian Sabbath. Today commercial and other unholy interests have combined to change the Holy Day into a holiday. . . . If we are going to be a Christian nation, then we must preserve Christian institutions, and the Sabbath is a Christian institution. Much is being said about 'blue laws.' What are blue laws?" etc.

In the some report of the sermon you make the following statement: "The present day world needs to be saved—by us," a statement which may be meant very well, but which is contrary to the Bible. We cannot save the world, for "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Acts 4:12. We cannot save the world, the Methodist Church cannot save the world, the only thing in which there is salvation is in the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and it is our duty to bring that Gospel to those who do not know it, and offer it to them—not force it down their throats by law. Assuredly the Church has no right in politics, or Christ, himself, did not know what He was talking about when He said: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, but unto God the things that are God's."

TO REV. C. A. COLE: Your neglect to answer my questions, added to your attitude in your own pulpit, establishes very clearly my suspicion that you do want Sunday laws, and here in Glendale, too. Will you deny the following quotation from the article in the Glendale Press, for June 6, 1921, headed "Propaganda to Create Disorder and Dissension," as well as similar statements made to your congregation:

". . . nor do we propose any Sunday laws. We're Americans and Christians. We believe in the separate State and Church. We also believe in no separation of morals and the State. I believe that an American community should also see that commercialized amusements should not compete at the hour of worship with the greatest institution in the nation, the Church; and it ought not to be countenanced. And that is not 'blue.' You can do what you please on the Lord's Day so long as you do not trespass on public right—the right of American people to protect their own day and maintain its character, and that right is undisputed, it is Constitutional."

You are not merely in favor of regulating Sunday movies but you go so far as to say it is Constitutional. What Article or Amendment to the Constitution do you find this in?

TO MR. W. B. KIRK: I mentioned your name in one of my letters to Mr. Edmonds. You did not say a thing, why? Probably for the same reason that you did not answer the fair and reasonable inquiry as to your attitude on the Sunday-closing matter! No one denies your integrity, Mr. Kirk, belittles your energy, or hints that you're not a perfectly fine fellow—at least I don't; but you would not come out and state your position when requested. It is just as easy to say "yes" as "no"; and if you really do want to close the theatres in Glendale on Sunday it would be no worse for you to come out and say so frankly than to allow the issue to be clouded by ignoring it with your Municipal League friends.

TO MR. R. F. KITTERMAN, Chairman Municipal League: Thank you very much for your letter. It may indeed be that your five candidates are all that you claim for them, and that your League has no intention to do anything now or later, nor have your candidates, if they are elected, regarding Sunday legislation; but it is none the less true that four of these five refused absolutely to state their attitude on this matter and the current excuse is that there is no issue—now. Is it wrong to ask for a candidate's position on a vital matter that may come up? It may not seem vital to you, but matters of conscience are indeed vital to me and to many other American citizens!

TO THE ANONYMOUS CORRESPONDENT who sent me a page from Pentecostal Herald, June 8, 1921, containing the marked article by I. M. Hargett entitled "The Blue Laws." One marked sentence reads, "It was all a lie. There was not a scintilla of truth in it. Nobody anywhere was trying, or proposing to try, to get such national law. It was like the little girl's definition of scandal—'Nobody does nothing and everybody goes around talking about it everywhere.'" This denial follows a statement which says that many of the newspapers say that "The Lord's Day Alliance and other reform organizations have united in a great national movement to bring back the blue laws and the Puritan Sunday. They (certain newspapers) said an amendment to the Federal Constitution was being sought." This is called "a lie" in spite of the fact that the secretary of one of these very organizations, the same Rev. Anthony Bowlby, of the Presbyterian Church, mentioned above, himself says:

"Of course, we shall back no law that would compel a man or a woman to attend church. But we believe that if we take away a man's motor car, his golf sticks, his Sunday newspaper, his horses, his pleasure steamships, amusement houses, and parks, and prohibit him from playing outdoor games or witnessing field sports, he naturally will drift back to church.'"

So the author of the article in the Pentecostal Herald says that all of this is a lie! I am very sorry that Mr. Hargett, my unknown correspondent, and many others are so evidently misled.

Finally, to my friends, telephonists, street corner conversants and readers: I have no personal interests in any of the candidates. They are every one of them splendid people; but I would vote for those who come out four-square, who state their position on Sunday laws, on the vital pool hall question, and on civic righteousness. Five candidates refuse to commit themselves on the Sunday issue in advance—Bartlett, Kirk, Muhleman, Yarick and Walker—the ticket endorsed by the so-called Municipal League. Practically all the others are outspoken and not afraid to express themselves when called upon. That is why I have had to say my little say; and that is why I urge all unbound, open-minded, sane citizens of Glendale to vote on Tuesday next for any five of the following: W. E. Anderson, S. A. Davis, C. E. Kimlin, A. H. Lapham, Dr. W. C. Mabry, Spencer Robinson and D. W. Stephenson, all of whom are strong for individual as well as civic righteousness and none of whom are afraid to state their opposition to Sunday legislation whether an issue now in Glendale, or at any time.

Ex-Service Men Know from Experience and Appreciate Service

Grand Army Men---Spanish American War Men---World War Men Endorse

Dr. Wm. C. MABRY for Councilman

Fought Typhoid and Malaria, the Great Scourges in the Spanish-American War.

Makes Direct Appeal to Ex-Service Men

(Col. Everington's Letter to The Glendale Evening News, June 25, 1921)

A direct appeal to all former service men to stand by their comrade was issued today by Col. James W. Everington, who retired from the regular army last year and has made his home in Glendale since, who urged the election of Dr. William C. Mabry to the city council because of his service in the United States army and participation in four wars.

Colonel Everington's letter follaws:

"Comrades: We have been called upon to support one of our number in his campaign for public office. Fair enough. He is one of us, but if we are to support him because of his service record, let us be consistent and support all service men whose records in and out of the service warrant such support.

"Dr. William C. Mabry, who is a candidate for office, is also a former service man. His service record has been published by the Glendale Better Council committee. I am writing this letter because some of our number, who do not know the doctor, have questioned the correctness of the statement as published.

"My opinion, I should say, is formed from long acquaintance. I have known "Doc" for about 20 years, we having first served together as lieutenants on duty with the Third Infantry, United States army, consequently I feel somewhat qualified to pass on the doctor's service record as published by the Better Council committee. The only comment I would make in vouching for the correctness of the record as published is to say that it did not half tell the tale.

"Dr. Mabry's military career may be said to have started early, as his great-great grandfather served as a major in the Revolutionary army, his great grandfather served in the War of 1812, his grandfather in the Mexican War and his father, four of his father's brothers and five of his mother's brothers in the Civil War. The doctor entered the service as an enlisted man in 1898, and won his promotion and served with distinction in many campaigns and engagements, having heard and felt more hostile bullets than many of us who are now wearing service stripes and buttons.

"If any of the former service candidates are entitled to our support on the strength of their service records, the record of a man who has given the best of his life to the service, as Dr. Mabry has, entitles him to our best efforts.

"The stick-to-it-iveness, the bulldog determination, which enabled Dr. Mabry to swim rain-swollen tropical torrents and to travel miles of flooded jungle alone, at night, in the heart of the enemy's country to secure aid for his command in the Philippines and which sustained him in the awful fights against cholera in the tropics, and the 'flu' in our big camps in this country, will get him what he goes after in the city council if you elect him. His many years of army experience as an executive in the army and in civil life have given him a broader outlook upon life than that of the average professional man, and fit him for the position which his friends have now induced him to seek.

"As an exponent of fair play, I solicit your support for our comrade, William C. Mabry, the best all-round man in the race.

VOTERS—Which side will you believe? Will you be misled by the pre-election propaganda of two excited factions assailing each other, but uniting in opposing the strong Municipal League ticket, or will you have faith in the signed statement of our candidates?

You can depend upon the word and character of Mrs. Ann P. Bartlett, two years chairman of the local Red Cross, ex-president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, now an honored member of our Board of City Trustees.

As good as his bond is the word of W. B. Kirk, Glendale and Los Angeles business man, active in war drives, leader in work for young men, ex-secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Rugged honesty is a chief characteristic of Chas. H. Muhleman, business man, home owner, business property owner, student of government.

Honorable and sane in the eyes of all his neighbors is Howard W. Walker, substantial business man and Glendale builder.

Always giving a square deal, Henry W. Yarick is treasurer, secretary, manager, in various big business concerns with years of activity of the highest degree of efficiency and trust.

Sensible citizens will not let the election-eve wolf! wolf! cry of "blue laws" injure these honored successful leaders at the polls tomorrow.

These five residents of from twelve to fourteen years, these neighbors, these friends of yours and of your city, will give you the wholesome, clean, economical, business administration that you want.

Vote unitedly for these five candidates and give us a harmonious business-like council to administer our new city government under the Freeholders' charter. You will be proud of their record.

Municipal League Candidates Still Dodge Sunday Closing

Puritanism, Corporation Control, Cemetery Extension and Nepotism, Four Live Issues Faced by Voters.

Four important issues face every Glendale voter who goes to the polling places tomorrow and the candidates on the three tickets cannot divorce themselves from these important problems in the city's administration.

The Sunday Closing question.

After a determined effort on the part of the Better Council Campaign Committee to "smoke out" the Municipal League quintet on this topic and solve the riddle of mysterious, whispered conferences held behind closed doors, an evasive reply that no "Blue Laws or fanatical legislation is contemplated" was all that could be secured.

In the face of the fact that the inspired (?) leader of the Blues, Rev. Bowlby, declares that "there is no such thing as blue laws," and at the same time solemnly avers that theatres, sale of gasoline, outdoor exercise, and ocean bathing must cease on Sunday and that worshippers of every sect must keep Sunday as Sabbath, the difference seems to be merely in words, not in motives.

The Peterman affidavit, a bomb under the hopes of the Goo-Goo group, definitely places the blame of the cemetery scandal where it belongs and should assure Stephenson's burial under an avalanche of hostile ballots. All Glendale is in sympathy with the South End in decrying the extension of the graveyard into the residential section.

Corporation control, the inspiration of the Goo-Goos, will be swatted by the voters who see the sting in this iniquitous plot. Nepotism (placing relatives on the city pay roll) is doomed. Fair-minded Americans see the danger in letting whole families have an opportunity to grasp at the city's funds.

Sane, conservative voters will take no chances, when candidates who are pledged to purify Glendale politics, are on the ballot.

THAT FLOAT

Graphically calling to the attention of the voters some of the real issues, a decorated float, resembling a cemetery, paraded the streets today.

On the imitation headstones were the names of those who, in the past year, have been missed. Their names are:

Economy.
Efficiency.
A. Square Deal.
Minnie Mum Tax.

And now that Religious Freedom has sickened with fear of what the Municipal League will do if they ever get a chance to put the shackles on Glendale's contented people, another marker might have to be made.

Aside from the humor of the exhibit, which had a wide appeal, there is a deeper significance.

Voters found it easy to remember how nearly the cemetery extension scheme was slipped over and what a vigorous protest had to be made to postpone the plan of the president of the council.

They also paused to picture how like a graveyard Glendale would be if Sunday closing made its inroads into this peaceful and law-abiding municipality.

Danger of Favoritism to Public Utility Corporations and Consequent Higher Cost of Necessities

Given As Reason for Repudiation of Clique

A bitter pill for the Good Government League (so-called) to swallow was prescribed this morning when the resignations of 18 of the original 50 members of that wobbling organization, unable to endure longer the odium of corporation association, resigned in a body and pledged themselves to vote the straight ticket of the Better Council Committee.

The political bombshell follows:

DRU NICOLES
Wire Chief, Telephone Company, and President, so-called Good Government League.

W. R. PHELON
Local manager, So. Cal. Gas Company, and Vice President, Good Government League.

H. P. COURTNEY
Outside Superintendent, Gas Company, and Financial Secretary, Good Government League.

J. D. HULL
Secretary, Good Government League.

Gentlemen:

Having reason to believe that your so-called Good Government League was organized for the principal purpose of re-electing a majority of the present incumbents, and feeling that your organization numbers among its leading spirits, too many representatives of public utility corporations, "which they so creditably serve," we hereby tender our resignations therefrom.

Ex-Service Men Endorse Their Friend Mabry

Veterans of all wars are rallying to the standard of their comrade, Dr. William C. Mabry, candidate for election on the Better Council ticket, as demonstrated elsewhere in this paper.

Few men have seen so much service as this unassuming citizen of Glendale. Serving his country in four campaigns—Spanish-American War, Boxer Rebellion, Philippine Insurrection and World War—he has spent years in attending America's soldiers whose patriotism called for sacrifice.

In civil life, Dr. Mabry has shown the same loyalty to city, state and nation. In administrative and executive positions, his skill and courtesy have endeared him to neighbors and associates. Municipal sanitation, a problem in every growing city, will have the attention of a recognized expert, when Dr. Mabry is elected.

Glendale voters indicate that they realize that by voting for Dr. Mabry they are assuring a valued official asset to the city's future government.

PETERMAN AFFIDAVIT

Another Hard Blow at Stephenson's Evasions

Placing the blame for the introduction of the discredited cemetery extension ordinance squarely at the door of D. W. Stephenson, and dramatically exposing the heavy disguise of mystery which surrounded this private fiasco, Russell W. Peterman, Glendale property owner and business man, has made a sworn affidavit revealing the truth behind this attempt to gold-brick the entire city.

Mr. Peterman's affidavit is printed in full on another page of this paper. It is the duty of every Glendale voter to read every word of it.

Ask yourself this question:
"Would you want a graveyard across the street from your home?"

Then answer it—and vote accordingly.

Mr. Peterman wrote his statement only after long reflection on his duty as a citizen and after a repeated effort to get Candidate Stephenson to pledge himself to oppose a similar attempted invasion of Glendale in the future, proving that the cemetery question is not a dead issue.

As he says under oath, Stephenson evaded a direct answer but gave a strong intimation that he was indifferent and that the outspoken protest of hundreds of indignant citizens little over a month ago, had failed to impress him with the gravity of the situation.

Those who joined in the protest, like Mr. Peterman, now realize that Stephenson represents a clique—not a city.

They know the folly of returning to office a man who requires constant watching to prevent the introduction of legislation prejudical to the public welfare.

They want strong men in office, men who are alert to guard the interests of all the people, who need no watching and who are truly representative. That's why voters will stamp their ballots after the names of the five pledged candidates of the Better Council Committee.

Better Council Candidates Capable

WILLIAM E. ANDERSON

410 West Los Feliz; age 50 years; resided in Glendale 15 years; garage and auto service business; a substantial, conservative, successful business man and a large taxpayer; he will be interested in economy and efficiency; he is a practical mechanical engineer and his knowledge as such will be of great service to the city; he will bring to the Board a long and successful business experience—a quality now needed in our city government.

S. A. DAVIS

118 West Colorado; age 46 years; resided in Glendale 9 years; real estate and investment business; formerly in feed and fuel business. He has had an active, honorable and successful business career in our midst and he is a man of sane, independent judgment; he is prepared to give a great deal of his time and attention to the city's affairs.

C. E. KIMLIN

219 North Isabel; age 40 years; resided in Glendale 8 years; he is business manager of our most famous institution, the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, known the country over. He is a man of great popularity because of his great ability and never failing courtesy. He has had twenty years of active and successful business experience; he has been actively interested in civic betterment and humanitarian movments.

WILLIAM C. MABRY

115 East Acacia Avenue; age 49 years; resided in Glendale approximately 9 years; after his graduation from medical college he served his country in four campaigns: Spanish-American War; Chinese Boxer Expedition; Philippine Insurrection and the World-War; throughout many years of army service and in civil life he has continuously occupied administrative and executive positions of great responsibility. During his residence in this city he was city health officer of Tropico during three administrations and was, for three or four years, president of the Tropico Chamber of Commerce; he also served as superintendent of the Play Grounds association and installed the Tropico playgrounds; he has been closely identified with every public improvement, including the paving and lighting of Brand boulevard and the acquisition of the water system; Dr. Mabry is a highly educated man and has had unusual training and experience in the field of sanitation, as this was one of his special duties during the many years he served in the army. His special knowledge and experience in the field of sanitation alone will not only protect the health of the city of Glendale in the event of the improvement of our water supply and the installation of a sewage disposal plant, but will save the taxpayers thousands if not hundreds of thousands of dollars. Dr. Mabry is a specialist and is not engaged in general practice; as a physician he thoroughly believes in medical freedom under the law; that is, he believes in the right of any individual to choose any method of healing he may desire; during the last nineteen months he has been in the service as Acting Assistant Surgeon, U. S. Public Health Service, in care of disabled veterans of the World War; all of the disabled veterans under his charge at Thornycroft warmly commend him.

SPENCER ROBINSON

1234 East Windsor Road; age 52 years; resided in Glendale 14 years; real estate business; he is a substantial business man having considerable property in Glendale and his course as city trustee has met with the approval of the city of Glendale; he is in position to give his time and attention to the city's interests.
